

Sell your skillset!

With classrooms shut, why not use your skills to raise money for good! You can teach via livestream and ask for donations to a charity of your choice.

Create your JustGiving page

Set up your JustGiving page to let people know who you are and what you can offer.

Click here to create your JustGiving page and then share the link with your friends.

Tell people about your services

Share your page on socials and email to let people know what you can teach - Facebook groups are great ways to advertise.

Ask for donations to watch

FaceTime, Zoom and WhatsApp are great tools to use for private lessons or if you want to teach multiple people at once - why not use YouTube or Facebook Live?

Start teaching!

Whether you're teaching subjects, music or how to tap dance in heels, you are raising money for good and that makes you a total legend.
